think we shall be most happily located from all I have yet seen. Nothing could be more kind and hearty than our reception in our new quarters.

The meeting is quite glorious. The ground seemed prepared by the Spirit of the LORD and our precious gospel struck root, as in congenial soil. The court house has the finest audience-room we have yet seen. lofty, roomy, economically seated and beautifully lighted with three chandeliers. I like the Mississippi court-houses. They all seem built on one plan. Standing in the centre of a capacious lot; entrance on four sides; broad hall, forming an exact Maltese cross; offices in four corners below; and above a splendid room for holding court and public meetings. No town hall needed after such accommodation. It is ample for all village wants. The Cumberland Presbyterians have opened their beautiful church for us to occupy, if we need it. We go there this afternoon, as the court-room will be needed to day for a case in the chancery court, now in session. The judge, with kindest consideration, holds his ordinary court in one of the lower rooms, in order not to interfere with the meeting. I wish you could see the way the court-room is packed with eager, earnest listeners. Men that never go to meeting attend every service, day and night. The Methodists were about to hold a protracted meeting when we came, but most courteously gave way when they saw their interest awakened among the people. The "brotherly kindness" will surely bear its precious fruits. Praise the LORD!

As far as we can judge by what we have seen this gospel will go through and through the South like a prairie fire. God grant it may!

Kosciusko has about 1,500 inhabitants, prettily situated on a lot of hills, in the pine woods. Still in reach of a pine-knock which to me of late is the embodiment of cheery comfort and hearty welcome.

Our dear friend Sister, Rhea Richards, writes to it that our mails follow us promptly, having taken the troupe under her special care in this line. What a treasure she is to her wandering charges and what a lot of trouble she gladly takes to keep us happy! God bless her! Ever in Jesus,

SOMERSET ITEMS.—Hiram S. Gocch, of Lincoln county, and Miss Nannie Grabb were married at the residence of Andrew Grabbill.—During the pastorate of Rev. Geo. R. James of 15 months here and at Baronside, there have been added to his church by letter, relation and baptism, 186, and a church debt of $360 has been liquidated.—Bob Murphy sold to Aba Wolf a head of cattle at $37 per head, and 37 head of hogs at $1.60 per head.—A number of our enterprising citizens have associated themselves together to form a joint stock company for the purpose of establishing a factory at this place. So far the subscriptions have reached $2,200 and an iron foundry has been suggested, though a factory of wooden articles may yet be adopted as more feasible and more profitable. —[Reporter.]

—Bescher, who judging from his past conduct extract about as much consolation out of it as anybody, said in his sermon last Sunday: "If a man believes in the old idea of hell to day he is a candidate for a lunatic asylum. He has got to give up his Christ or his hell. Men are rescued and saved by the voluntary suffering of love, and the idea is inconsistent with the idea of a God of vengeance. The reversible has left hell pretty much out, and has put in sheol and hades. This does not put out the idea of future punishment, but believe in that—but the old machinery and methods of punishment are given up."

Young Mr. Fair, son of Senator Fair, of Nevada, can boast of the most expensive drunk on record when he tried to shoot a Representative of the State of California, because the latter refused to take a drink with him. Young Fair had been promised a cool $100,000 if he would go for a year without drinking, and had scored up seven months of the allotted time, but the temptation to go on a tour that would cost a round million was too glittering for his little mind and he fell.

Lady.—"You have houses for rent?" Real estate agent.—"Yes; here is one list of about 150." Lady.—"Do you think you can give me one that will suit me?" Real estate agent.—"Madam, I don't believe I can, but possibly I can give you one that will suit your husband."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

The Pacific Ocean contains 80,000,000 square miles, which is twice the size of the Atlantic, four times the size of the Indian, eight times the size of the Southern and 16 times the size of the Arctic. These five bodies of water contain 155,000,000 square miles of water.

The use of the gall of rattlesnakes is again warmly urged by M. Kneely, of Austria, as an antidote for snake bite. He asserts that cows and dogs in the last stage of the poison recover immediately on the remedy being administered.

"If misfortune overtakes you, smile," advises a poet. That's all well enough, but suppose misfortune overtakes you in strictly prohibition town? —[Burlington Free Press.]

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.
Lancaster.

—Gen. Simon Ballivar Buckner is town this morning.

—Rev. W. O. Goodloe, formerly of this place, now of Mt. Sterling, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning afternoon.

—It is Lawyer Louis Landrum now, you please. The young man went to Danville Thursday to be examined and returned with the necessary "papers" that evening.

—At the solicitation of friends Mr. R. L. Tomlinson has concluded to withdraw from the race for representative. Mr. Tomlinson had quite a strong following, but thinks he is doing the best for his party by his withdrawal.

—Mr. Alex. Doty met with quite a painful accident a few days ago. While in the loft of his stable shoveling some corn he lost his balance and fell a distance of several feet, spraining his arm and bruising his hip considerably.

—Col. D. R. Collier has gone to Chattanooga on a visit to relatives. Misses Liza Sweeney and Lala Chaires went to Louisville Monday to remain several weeks. C. B. M. Bardett and wife leave on Tuesday morning for a stay of several months at Killarney, Florida.

—At the sale of the property of the late James L. Adams last Thursday the horse tract of land, containing 510 acres, was sold to George Higginbotham at $50 per acre, realizing $25,500. The personal property brought something over $2,500. One is sold for $705; a buggy mare for $145 and other stock in proportion.

—James Rose was jailed here last week charged with having committed a rape on the person of Mahala Barnside, a respectable colored woman, who lives near Bryanville. The woman claims that Rose met her in the road and drawing his pistol compelled her to comply with his demands. Rose is about 25 years of age and bears a bad reputation. He will have his examination trial on Wednesday, before Judge Walker.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—George M. Givens has returned again from Atlanta. He sold his stock, but reports a dull market.

—L. C. Alcorn and wife, from Danville, were here some days. "Wink's" health seems to be steadily improving and he looks happy.

—We had on Saturday about the heaviest rainfall of the season. The blizzard struck us in the afternoon and put in good time during the night and through Sunday.

—The waters have prevailed to such an extent for several days as to prevent most people from coming to town. Hence a great amount of business is being transacted.

—G. W. Ryan's case has developed a typhoid fever. His sister and sister-in-law reached this place from West Virginia Saturday. Abernethy Chenault died this morning.

—We have a pretty general clamor for war with Great Britain. This probably grows to some extent out of the fact that the dividends from the pension bureau give evidence that military service is a good investment.

—In obedience to a joint resolution adopted by the general assembly, Governor Knott has issued his proclamation naming Saturday, April 2, as "Arbor Day," when it is hoped every body will plant him a little tree, either ornamental or useful.

—A movement is on foot in Christian county to build a number of turnpike roads. A fund of $80,000 has been raised for the purpose. John C. Latham, Jr., the wealthy young banker of New York, a native Christian county, leads off with a subscription of $50,000.

—Down in East Tennessee a man named Newman was engaged to move a widow and her family, and while doing so while a young daughter of the woman was with him on the wagon seat a fiend sprang from the roadside and fired two shots from his gun, killing Newman and the girl instantly. Eppe, the fellow who did the deed, then fled and 100 men started in pursuit, resolved to burn him alive when caught.

—An elderly widower, who lived near Memphis, took advantage of a 17-year-old girl and under threats of death prevented her telling her parents. Finding her innocent and knowing that further concealment was out of the question, she went to the man and without the least warning fired five shots into his body, three after he had fallen, killing him instantly. She is now lodged in jail, but will be acquitted, as she should be.

—At Columbia, S. C., five itinerant holiness evangelists from the North, three men and two women, who fraternized with grocers and gave offense by denouncing Catholics as well as all other denominations and slandering ladies of Columbia, were taken by a mob of about 100 students from the lodging house, dragged with a rope around the streets for two hours in the rain, and the women were exhausted, being subjected at the same time to cries of "lynch them" and being pelted with all sorts of missiles. They were then put on a train and sent North without being permitted to get their clothing or effects from their lodging house.

Every sack guaranteed to give satisfaction.
